ENCOURAGE CHANGE VIA INDEPENDENT TRAINING INSTITUTION REVIEWS

Independent training institution reviews can provide an organisation with transparent information that can assist with developing strategic benchmarks towards continued improvement. Engaging an external stakeholder such as Transformation Consultancy enables the organisation to collect and collate information that is transparent and objective. Evidence collated can foster faculty collaboration and collective motivation towards change.

Continued monitoring should embrace a blended approach that can clearly define positive changes and real-world results. A blended approach to educational evaluation can enhance the meaning and purpose of the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) Quality Indicator Reporting process. A blended ongoing approach assists to strengthen the business planning of an institution.
